Holiday Planned For Thanksgiving

Virtually All Stores To Close For General Observance of Day

There was an air of excited preparation today in Fayette County homes as plans were made for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Many were planning to join traffic throngs on Ohio highways for turkey dinners elsewhere; others were going to stay home and let the lady of the house handle the yeoman chores over the kitchen range.

For practically everyone, Thanksgiving Day will be family day. The family circle will be drawn closer as sisters, brothers, cousins, grandmothers and grandfathers will share in the observance.

Veep and His Bride Lolling Under Palms

SEA ISLAND, Ga., Nov. 22—(AP)—The nation's number one newlyweds, Vice President Alben Barkley and his bride, lolled under palms today in their honeymoon haven.

"We just want to take it easy," said the portly Barkley as the couple settled down in a swank apartment overlooking the Atlantic Ocean.

Last night, they won seclusion almost for the first time since their wedding in St. Louis Friday. A guard kept visitors a respectful distance from their Shangri-La. This quiet, luxurious resort in south Georgia's golden isles was their secret destination through a leisurely three-day drive from St. Louis.

The 71-year-old vice president, and his pretty, 38-year-old wife were tired but still laughing and joking on their arrival.

"Mr. Barkley was just like one of our 22-year-old grooms," said hotel manager Irving Harned.

During the Michigan-Ohio State football game Saturday a Wolverine ball carrier got away from several OSU tacklers and appeared to be off on a sure touchdown run.

In a living room in Washington C. H. where several had gathered to watch the game over TV, there were shouts like those which might have been heard in the Michigan stadium: "Get him, get him!"

A small dog, which had been deep in dog dream world, jumped up and started tearing around the room barking at the TV set and the player streaking across the screen.

When the Wolverine player was stopped, there were some sighs of relief around the room. And the living room audience stroked the dog. Everybody in the room thought for a minute the little animal had scared the player away from the goal line.

During the snowstorm Monday afternoon, Mrs. Ralph Hays, residing on the Post Road near Madison Mills, noticed some yellow blossoms in the shrubbery about her home.

Closer investigation revealed a number of blossoms on a forsythia bush, and they were as perfectly formed as the usual spring blossoms of this early blooming shrub.

Mrs. Hays said the shrub lost its leaves last week. Incidentally it is in the habit of blooming in the spring before its leaves appear.

Sex-Maniac Being Held In Little Girl's Death

FRESNO, Calif., Nov. 22—(AP)—An itinerant cotton picker, Paul Gutierrez, 25, was held under strong guard on a murder booking today for the vicious rape-killing early Sunday of 17-months-old Josephine Yanez.

Police said he gave them a statement, admitting he took the baby from her parents' car and spanked her, but contending everything after that was "blank," until he woke up at his cabin later in the day.

Gutierrez was arrested yesterday afternoon, picking cotton in a field six miles west of Huron. It was near Huron, 40 miles south-

Contract Let For Pipeline

Workmen Enroute to Resume Job

Texas Eastern Transmission Corp., which owns the three large gas mains spanning Fayette County, and plans to build a fourth line of 30 inches across Ohio next year, has let the contract for completing 33 miles of the 26-inch line.

Work on the main was halted two months ago when the contractors ran out of pipe.

Contract for the remaining 33 miles was let to Associated Pipeline Contractors, Inc., which had the contract for building the 23 inch main as far as pipe permitted.

Announcement made by a company spokesman stated that already members of the construction crew are enroute to begin work about Dec. 1 and that unloading equipment and supplies will take place at Milledgeville near which place the construction work will begin.

Whether part of the workmen will be lodged in Washington C. H. for the time being, has not been announced, but it is believed some of the workers will locate here temporarily.

Plans call for completing work of laying the 23 miles of pipe now on hands by December 25. Just when the remainder of the pipe will arrive is not known.

Work of stringing pipe along the right of way is to start this week, it was stated.

Appeal Board Picks Pensyl As Chairman

George Pensyl was elected chairman of the Washington C. H. Board of Appeals at a meeting of the group Monday night in the city building.

The board handles questions arising from the city's zoning ordinance.

Other officers picked were Walter Rettig, vice chairman and Mrs. Gilbert Adams, secretary. Willis Taylor was recently appointed to the board. The other board member is Ora Middleton.

All the board members with the exception of Taylor were recently reappointed to three year terms by City Manager Winston W. Hill.

The board conducted a hearing on an application by Clifford Young for the erection of a small building adjacent to a greenhouse on High Street. The building is to be put up in an area that has been zoned as a residential area.

Since no objections were made by residents in the area, the board recommended approval of the application.

The balance of the business session was devoted to acquainting Taylor with his duties on the board.

Auto Helps Snow-bound Plane Land At Airport

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 22—(AP)—An automobile helped two planes land safely at Youngstown Airport yesterday.

A sudden snow flurry covered the runways at the airport. While a DC-3 circled for 15 minutes, an automobile made tire tracks to outline the strip.

The airliners landed without mishap.

Another Romance Story Out About Miss Margaret Truman

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., Nov. 22—(AP)—Is Margaret Truman "keeping company" with a handsome young newspaper editor?

The name of Ed Wall, 28-year-old editor of an AFL newspaper in Albany, N. Y., has been linked romantically with Miss Truman's in several recent radio broadcasts by Walter Winchell, New York Daily Mirror columnist.

Yesterday, Wall was in Phoenixville for the first annual Freedoms Foundation awards at near Valley Forge. There were other newspapermen present and Wall was asked about Miss Truman, who is now on a concert tour.

"I can say absolutely nothing about that," said Wall, adding that "right now I am not romantically interested in anyone."

Pressed further, Wall said he could not deny close acquaintance with any specific girl.

"I am in a very peculiar position," he added without elaboration. "Really I am in a spot."

Wall, who edits a monthly publication for the AFL International Brotherhood of Paper Makers, said "some talk" began several months ago after he visited the White House "on official, personal business."

Winding up the interview, Wall said he was driving to Washington last night "to see some friends."

At the White House? "That," said Wall, "isn't a fair question."

Union Service Here Wednesday

Thanks To Be Given At Grace Church

Church-goers in this community will join together again in a spiritual bond for union Thanksgiving services, to be held at 7:30 P. M. Wednesday at the Grace Methodist Church.

This was announced today by Rev. Allan W. Caley, president of the Fayette County Ministerial Association.

Rev. Caley said the service is held each year on the night before Thanksgiving to give the people an opportunity to spend Thanksgiving Day at home or to go out of town.

Sponsored by the Fayette County Ministerial Association, the union services will feature ministers from various churches in the city. The services will last about an hour.

Rev. Caley said practically every church in the city was co-operating in the unified worship.

Rev. L. A. Dahmer, pastor of the All Nations Church of Christ, will deliver the sermon while Rev. Caley will have general charge of the services.

Separate Services Planned

Rev. D. J. Macdonald, pastor of the Episcopal Church, will offer the prayer and Rev. C. B. Tigner, pastor of the First Christian Church, will read the scripture.

Separate Thanksgiving services will be held at the Christian Science reading rooms and at St. Colman's Catholic Church.

The service at the Christian Science reading room will start at 11 A. M. Thanksgiving Day. Prayers will be read and a solo sung by William S. Paxson. A lesson-sermon, prepared especially for Thanksgiving Day, will be delivered.

At St. Colman's Church, a Thanksgiving Day High Mass has been scheduled for 7:30 A. M. Father Otto F. Guenther said the High Mass would be featured by a Prayer for Public Authorities. He said there is no obligation for members of the church to attend the High Mass, although the attendance Thanksgiving Day is always good.

Marion Water Co. Granted Rate Hike

COLUMBUS, Nov. 22—(AP)—The state Utilities Commission today authorized the Marion Water Company to increase rates 35 percent.

The commission said rates set by city ordinance last May are "unjust and unreasonable and will not yield a just and reasonable return on the value of the property."

Old rates had been in effect more than 20 years. The city ordinance extended those rates.

The company estimated the new rates will give it a net operating revenue of $138,410 a year, compared with $74,712 under the old schedule for the year ending May 31, 1949.

"You have made a real contribution to the ability of American farmers and their cooperative associations to conserve food at no cost to the taxpayer," said Everett F. Rittenour of Piketon, O., president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

"The board conducted a hearing on an application by Clifford Young for the erection of a small building adjacent to a greenhouse on High Street. The building is to be put up in an area that has been zoned as a residential area."

Since no objections were made by residents in the area, the board recommended approval of the application.

Two Americans Seized In Hungary as Spies

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 22—(AP)—Hungary announced today it had arrested Robert Vogeler, an American businessman, and Edgar Sanders, a Briton, on charges of spying and sabotage.

Vogeler is an assistant vice president of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company and its eastern European representative, with headquarters in Vienna. Sanders represents the company in Budapest.

Hungary also announced the arrest of Imre Geiger, managing editor of Standard Electric Co., Ltd., of Budapest, a subsidiary of ITT. He, too, is held on a spy charge.

The Hungarian foreign office yesterday denied it knew anything about reports of the arrest of Vogeler, who disappeared Friday morning during a business trip to the Hungarian capital.

The Hungarian government announcement said Vogeler and Sanders had confessed to sabotage and spying.

(In Vienna, Vogeler's wife said Hungarian agents had been shadowing her husband. Reports there said the files of the ITT in Budapest had been confiscated when he and a person reported to be his secretary were arrested.)

Wife Gives Version

(Mrs. Vogeler speculated in Vienna before the Hungarian announcement was made that her husband was being held in a Budapest jail until he agreed to sign "some sort of confession of espionage or sabotage." Other informed sources in Austria made a similar conjecture.)

The communique said Geiger also had confessed and added his testimony implicated Vogeler and Sanders. It said Geiger was taken while trying to flee across the border.

No details of the alleged sabotage and espionage were disclosed. Nor was the number of other persons involved.

Attorney N. P. Clyburn Dies at His Home Here

Nathan Pettus Clyburn, 79, prominent Washington C. H. attorney, died at his home, 204 East Paint Street, Monday at 2:40 P. M., following a lengthy illness.

Mr. Clyburn was born in Highland County, near Rainsboro, and spent his early days there. After completing his study in law school he was engaged in the practice of law in Hillsboro and later Chillicothe.

Coming to Washington C. H. 28 years ago he had been following his profession here since that time, and had been prominent in many unusual cases in court as well as having a large practice generally.

Phil Davis Dies At Home Here

Funeral Services To Be Held Friday

Phil J. Davis, 77, for years one of the city's civic leaders and businessmen, is dead.

The end came at 7:50 P. M. Monday at his home, 608 East Paint Street, following an illness of about a year. His condition had been considered serious for the last two weeks.

Mr. Davis came to Washington from Gallia County, where he was born, as a comparatively young man.

He had taught school in his native county and when he came here, took a teaching position in the little one-room red brick school house on the Prairie Pike.

The following year he gave up the teaching profession and went into business. He was with the Willis Lumber Co. here, for 47 years, part of the time as secretary-treasurer and later, after a reorganization, as its general superintendent. He remained with the firm as long as his health permitted.

School Board Member

He served eight years on the city school board and was one of the leaders in the improvement and development of East Paint Street as a residential section. He was instrumental in getting the street paved.

He was a staunch member of the First Presbyterian Church and was active in its affairs. He served the church as one of its trustees for years.

During his long life here, he made many friends both in Washington C. H. and the surrounding community.

For his educational background, he attended Rio Grande College and Ohio Northern University at Ada, after completing his schooling in Gallia County.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Edwin Craig of Grove City, Mrs. Walter H. Price of Dayton, Miss Clara Davis at home and Mrs. George Campbell of Washington C. H., and one son, H. Wilis Davis, of Marion. Mrs. Davis died four years ago. He also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Arthur Wood and Miss Jane and Miss Maye Davis, all of Gallipolis, and two brothers, Jenkin Davis of Rio Grande and Steve Davis of Columbus.

Funeral services are to be held at the Gerstner Funeral Home at 2 P. M. Friday. Burial is to be in the family lot in the Washington Cemetery.

Friends may call any time at the residence.

'Short Errand' Ends in Jail

CINCINNATI, Nov. 22—(AP)—The second three months will be the longest for Jack Hundley, a soldier from Rainsboro (Highland County).

Last Aug. 10, Patrolman Leamon Foster loaned his car to Hundley for a "short errand." Three months and 30,000 miles later the policeman got his car back.

Hundley was returned to Cincinnati from Columbus Saturday to face a conversion charge.

Municipal Judge Frank M. Gusweiler fined him $100 and sentenced him to the workhouse for three months.

Friends may call any time at the residence.

At Chicago, a suit for $15,000 has been entered by the estate of Earl Doering. Both Doering and his wife died in the fire.

Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock, in his findings of a federal commission inquiry into disaster delivery at Ottawa yesterday, ruled loss of life was due to failure of the company and Capt. William Taylor, the ship's captain, to follow out basic fire precaution measures.

Only One Child Among 28 on It Survived, Report

Bodies Scattered In Dense Forest Of South Norway

OSLO, Norway, Nov. 22—(AP)—

The Dutch mercy plane that disappeared Sunday was found wrecked today near Oslo, with a 12-year-old boy apparently the only survivor among the 28 Jewish refugee children and seven adults it carried.

Police announced they had recovered 26 bodies. The front part of the plane was smashed in landing in a forest on the west side of Oslo Fjord, 30 miles from the city. The tail remained intact.

The surviving boy was taken to a hospital at Drammen, where the head physician said:

Almost A Miracle

"It is almost a miracle that a 12-year-old boy should be as fit as he is after almost two days in that wreck. Though there is no indication of a shock, condition, he speaks only a little bit and he has not given his name. He is to be left completely to rest until tomorrow."

The boy had slight burns, a nose scratch and a swollen right wrist.

There was only the slimmest chance that there were any more survivors, the rescue parties reported.

The searchers found the twin-engine DC-3 transport after searching since Sunday through the dense forests of southern Norway. It was lost en route from Tunis, North Africa, to Norway with the 28 undernourished refugee children, three nurses and four crewmen.

Crashed in Forest

The plane smashed into the forest, cutting a broad swath through the trees. The front part of the chartered Aero Holland craft was badly damaged, but the rear section was said to have been almost intact. As rescue workers came upon it, some of them reported they could hear faint, feeble cries.

It was reported that the lone survivor was a 12-year-old boy.

Several bodies were found strewn about in the dense woods. The plane was found near Filtvet, a small town on the west side of the Oslo Fjord, about 30 miles from the Norwegian capital. The nearest house to the crash scene is almost two miles away, and apparently its occupants did not hear the explosion when the plane crashed.

Even though hopes were slim for any more survivors, squads of ambulance and rescue teams were sent to reinforce those at the scene, a hilly, heavily forested place difficult to penetrate.

Survivor Has Chance

The child who survived was taken to a hospital at Drammen, 20 miles from Oslo, police said, and a doctor there was quoted as saying the boy has a good chance of recovery.

The boy, one of the pitifully underfed refugee children who had been on their way to rest and rehabilitation in Norway, speaks French, officials said, but it was impossible for the time being to persuade him to tell his name.

All the children had been destined eventually to go on to Israel, the Jewish state.

A vast hunt for the plane had been under way since Sunday.

Bell Telephone Co. Faces Pension Scrap

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—A legal scrap shaped up today over action of the Bell system telephone companies in boosting their pension plan for workers.

A labor union, the CIO's Communications Workers, protested that the improvements were "not enough" and were put into effect without consulting the union.

Company spokesmen said the pension plan reserved to the company the right to make changes and this practice had been followed for years since the plan was inaugurated in 1913.

The union's president, Joseph A. Beirne, said unfair labor practice charges will be filed with the National Labor Relations Board and a congressional investigation asked. He said the supreme court has ruled pensions are a matter for bargaining with unions.

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—On Jan. 1 The Social Security Tax is going up from the present 1 per cent each to 1½ per cent each on all employees and employers covered by the law.

This increase of one-half of 11 percent in the Social Security Tax will affect about 2,700,000 employers and about 50,000,000 employees. Congress voted for this increase in 1947.

This is the way the tax works and how it will work after Jan. 1.

The employee -- You're a covered employee. Now you pay a yearly tax of 1 per cent on whatever salary you make up to $3,000. There's no tax on anything thing you make over $3,000.

So the highest tax such an employee has to pay now is 1 per cent of $3,000, or $30 a year, earned from any one employer. When the 1½ per cent tax a year on the first $3,000 from one employer and paid the maximum tax on that--$30--and then went to work for another employer during the year.

(What happens in the case of an employee who changes jobs during the year? Suppose he earned as much as $3,000 from one employer and paid the maximum tax on that--$30--and then went to work for another employer during the year.

(Is he all finished, paying his Social Security Tax for the year? No. He has to pay 1 per cent of his pay up to the first $3,000 of it earned from the second employer. (But isn't $30 the most an employee has to pay in any one year now? Yes. But when he pays more than that, he can get a refund by asking the Internal Revenue Bureau for it at the end of the year. The Bureau collects the tax.)

The employer-- You have to match, out of your own pocket, whatever tax your covered employee has to pay: 1 per cent of his salary up to the first $3,000 of it.

So the most an employer has to pay on any employee's salary is $30 now, or 1 per cent of $3,000. Suppose the employee's total salary is $5,000 or $10,000.

No matter. The employer pays only 1 per cent--$30--on the first $3,000. Suppose the employee's salary is $1,000. The boss pays only 1 per cent of $1,000, or $10.

When the tax goes up to 1½ per cent Jan. 1, the employee and the employer each will have to pay 1½ per cent of the employee's salary up to the first $3,000, or a maximum of $45 each.

(So, while the combined tax on employer and employee now is only 2 per cent, after Jan. 1 it will be 3 per cent.)

This is an explanation of how the tax increase on Jan. 1 came about.

When the Social Security Act was passed in 1935, Congress said the tax should start in 1937 and would run this way:

1937-8-9--1 per cent each on employees and employers; 1940-2--1½ per cent; 1943-4-5--2 per cent; 1946-7-8--2½ per cent; and starting Jan. 1, 1949--3 per cent.

But as 1940 began to roll around --with the tax due to go up from 1 to 1½ per cent --Congress voted to keep it at 1 per cent. Year after year it voted to freeze the tax at 1 per cent to prevent an increase.

But--in 1947 Congress voted to keep the tax at 1 per cent on employees and employers through 1949 and then let it go up to 1½ per cent on each, starting Jan. 1, 1950.

Since Congress hasn't changed what it agreed to in 1947, the tax rise of one-half of one per cent starts Jan. 1.

This year the present Congress, before it went home, considered a bill to increase Social Security Taxes on an increasing scale until they reached a total of 3¼ per cent each on employees and employers in 1970 and thereafter. The House passed this bill this year. But the Senate didn't, so the bill didn't become law. Therefore, the law passed by Congress in 1947, and not changed since, goes into effect Jan. 1.

Christmas Seal Sale Starts Here

Leaders and interested participants in the 1949 Christmas Seal sale met in the Washington Hotel banquet room Monday night for a campaign kick-off dinner.

Presiding over the meeting, Ellsworth Vannorsdall, Seal Sale chairman introduced Miss Gretchen Darlington, head nurse at the Health Dept., who gave a report on some of the accomplishments of the Tuberculosis and Health Association during the last year.

She reported that seven chest clinics had been held, serving a total of 188 people, in addition to two mass surveys which covered over 1200. She then read similar figures from previous years to show that the number of people being referred to the clinics has been decreasing, indicating a decrease in the frequency of the disease.

"Yet," she said, "tuberculosis still claimed five lives during the past year."

Purposes Explained

After this report, J. Paul Strevey, executive-secretary of the TB and Health Association, explained the role of the Association in the prevention and detection of tuberculosis.

He pointed out that the Association is a volunteer organization belonging to the people who work for it, and not the government. "It is this type of organization," he added, "that, by raising health standards helps keep democracy strong."

Strevey also announced that the Fayette Theater is currently showing a trailer on the Christmas Seal sale.

With the preparation of the Seal mailing by the Business and Professional Women's Club, Strevey said the 1949 sale was now proceeding according to schedule.

Following his talk, Strevey introduced the guest speaker for the evening, Mrs. N. M. Reiff.

"Socialized Medicine"

For the topic of her informal talk, Mrs. Reiff chose "Socialized Medicine."

She spoke specifically of the compulsory health insurance bill proposed under the Federal Security Administration that is currently pigeon-holed in Congress.

"This plan," she said, "threatens the health of patients in this country."

She said that "nowhere where this type of health program has been tried, has there been anything but failure."

"With our present voluntary health insurance programs," she said, "we have all the benefits promised under the government plan plus the freedom from government restrictions."

Mrs. Reiff concluded by saying that the only way to keep medicine free from the government is to see that "the representatives in Congress stand for what we want."

Present for Dinner

Those present at the dinner were: Ellsworth Vannorsdall, president of the Fayette County TB and Health Assoc.; Virgil Perrill, representative of the general assembly from Fayette County; Mrs. Reiff, Rev. Allan Caley; Rev. Otto Guenther; Mrs. Olive Gidding, Crippled Children's Society; William J. Hilly, superintendent of County schools; C. E. McCarley, Chamber of Commerce; Miss Darlington; Mrs. Dorothy Miller, Business and Professional Women's Club; Mrs. Wanda Wilson, Business and Professional Women's Club; Kenneth Craig, superintendent of New Holland Schools; Paul Van Voorhis, Polio Foundation; C. F. Pensyl, Washington High School; Mrs. George Smith, Health Department; George Pensyl, Fayette County Hospital Board; Mrs. Joseph Colegrove, health department; Mrs. James Cooper, health department; Mrs. Joel Bailey; Joseph M. Herbert, Fayette County Medical Society; Chester Janes, Granges of Fayette County; Charles A. Fabb treasurer of Fayette County; Forest F. Tipton, Neil Hercules and Dan Gottlieb, Washington C. H. Record-Herald.

In an endless, between-acts fashion show, society paraded in one door, along the bar and out past the cameras. A few paused for a drink. A handful had tables reserved.

The opening was televised a year ago, too. But this year ABC presented it over an expanded network for a record audience.

High-jinks, such as have enlivened openings in other years, were few.

New Ballots Will Require Careful Voting

There seems to be some difference of opinion among many Washington C. H. people, and others over Fayette County with whom we have talked, regarding the constitutional amendment providing for the so-called Massachusetts ballot in Ohio.

The decisive popular vote in favor of this change at the recent election does not meet with favor from those who definitely preferred the old style of ballot which carried all candidates of political parties in separate columns representing each party.

A Supreme Court ruling on a technical error in the wording of the new law must be awaited before it is known positively whether the new ballot, by amendment, is adopted. Most legal authorities, however, appear to think the law will stand.

Under the proposed new ballot form it will be necessary to pick out each name and mark an X in front of it, instead of putting a cross at the top of a column at the head of the party list, thus voting for a whole set of candidates under a certain party designation. Some voters have been doing this without even looking at names of candidates.

It does seem logical that the new ballot is an approach to more intelligent voting for each candidate, if that is what the people want. Some apparently do not.

It will require more time for a voter to mark his ballot and more time to count ballots, but if a voter does wish to pick out and vote for only Republicans, or Democrats, he or she can do so as each candidate in the new ballot will show his political party in print beside his name. Thus the argument some use that the new ballot will destroy the two major party political system would appear unfounded.

The merits of the Massachusetts plan have caused its adoption by 17 other states, reaching all over the United States. These are Arkansas, California, Colorado, Florida, Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, and Virginia.

Ulcers And Leisure

After checking up on more than two thousand industrial and business executives, the doctors in charge of a Philadelphia clinic concluded that there are five reasons for the ailments which afflict busy men in their later years.

They carry home a briefcase and spend their evenings trying to solve business problems. Lunchtime, instead of being a breathing spell between sessions, is too likely to be just another business appointment, with eating as a sideline. Vacations are often omitted or taken half-heartedly because of a man's belief that he is indispensable. Strenuous weekly physical activity takes the place of a leisure-time hobby. The results of this lack of moderation show up in coronary trouble, high blood pressure, and stomach ulcers.

Perhaps these conclusions may be summed up in two words of advice to the harried executive: "slow down!" This advice may prove to be as important from a safety standpoint as are the same words posted at a danger point on a thickly travelled highway. Many valuable citizens who should have had at least twenty more years of active life die suddenly because of their failure to heed this warning.

This atom business seems to get more and more mixed up. The first atom which was split open to disclose its contents seems to have been a modern Pandora's Box.

That part of the American public which enjoys the beauties of autumn is sorry for that part which doesn't have such a season—until it is time to rake up the once beautiful autumn leaves. Then pity turns to envy, and evergreen seems "the only wear."

Go North, Young Lady, Go North

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, (P)—Looking for a good strong man to build your life around, sister?

Well, if you're a robust, warm-blooded girl, don't overlook Alaska. The odds are in your favor there.

"It's a great place for a girl to find a husband," said Maurice T. Johnson, mayor of Fairbanks, which he says is the third largest city in Alaska and "the largest one farthest north."

It has 12,000 people, counting its farflung suburbs.

"There are about three men to every woman—maybe more—throughout the territory," said Johnson, adding this note of caution:

"But a lot of young girls who came up there and saw our rough-hewn old miners might feel disappointed. They might even want to turn around and come back."

However, though the men are as rugged as the scenery, a girl needn't worry about there being any lack of heat in the long Alaskan winter.

Mayor Johnson and city clerk E. A. Tonsen came to Manhattan to fix that. They had the chore of signing a $4,500,000 bond issue to build Fairbanks a new municipally owned power plant and water treatment system.

"It was the first revenue bond issue ever floated in Alaska," said the mayor.

They had expected to have some arms and spend two days signing the 4,500 bonds—each for $1,000. But it took them only an hour.

"It was amazingly simple," said Johnson. "They have signing machines. You press down on one pen and 19 other pens sign, too."

The mayor, a lawyer from Woodstock, Ill., who took his family to Alaska during the last depression, believes the territory has a future for young people with courage to face a rugged life.

"It now has a population of only 100,000," he said. "But I don't see why it couldn't support 500,000. That would still be less than one person to a square mile. It's a pretty sizeable chunk of ground up there."

The call of the Alaskan wild has tamed down since the day of Jack London and Robert Service.

"We probably use planes more than you do here," said Johnson. "Dog teams, around the cities at least, are just local color now."

The lady that was known as Lou doesn't live there any more. The districts haunted by shady women have been broken up at the request of commanders of airforce bases. Prospectors are more interested in finding oil than gold.

And—shades of the faded past!—the mighty game of poker now is secondary to another pastime, an Arctic bingo called Pagini or "Pan."

"It's a kind of cold weather gin rummy," explained the mayor. "The game is very popular—you can only win or lose a little if you play all night."

Johnson said Times Square failed to come up to the Northern Lights in splendor, and opined the climate here didn't equal that of Alaska.

"In June we can baseball at midnight without artificial lights," he remarked. "It never gets dark in summer."

The mayor, before taking off for Fairbanks, expressed relief he had been able to complete his business in New York before winter trapped him here.

"I understand you had a 25-inch snowfall in one day a couple of years ago," he said. "Why, we never have a snow like that up home. Only had 31 inches all told last year. Don't see how you handle it all."

Serious Drama of South Pacific

By George E. Sokolsky

It is, I suppose, hard to realize that "South Pacific," for all its lovely song, is a serious dramatic play dealing with one of the most vexed problems facing the United States, this matter is called "miscegenation."

In which is meant marriage outside of one's kind.

In many states of this country marriages are illegal if the parties to it are not of the same color. This applies not only to Negroes, but to other peoples. It is impossible to say, "of the same race," because so little is known of the races of man, although in Hitler's time, the racial theories of Houston Stewart Chamberlain and others like him were emphasized for political purposes. Yet, no one could regard the Germans as a "Pure Race," for they have been invaded so often by so many varieties of man. Similarly, it would be difficult to ignore the role of the Moors in southern Europe and the mixed relationships among the Romans, the Goths, the Vandals, Hannibal's armies... need one go on?

Of course, moral law can recognize no such rule of life. All men and women are God's children. In earlier history of European civilization, national or racial differences were rarely recognized. The Greek and Roman conquerors took their women where they found them and although concubinage may not always have produced legitimate offspring, the descendants of such unions influenced the general character of the European population. Similarly, all through Asia and in Northern Africa, the mixtures of man have been continuous.

Asiatic women have generally held a fascination for western men. They are so mild and generous and when they are beautiful, they are without compare. And one needs only to be married into a Chinese family, to discover that women as wives are universally patterned and that beneath the pigmentation of the skin is a woman, a wife, a mother.

I watched the story unfold in "South Pacific" and could only throw my own mind back to my lovely first wife, now deceased, and to the days when we discussed the racial line of demarcation as a practical problem that we had to so live, just as it faces those in "South Pacific." We did so live it firmly and practically and to our satisfaction as long as life endured. And at no time, so far as I ever knew, were there any regrets or uncertainties. We were a husband and wife facing life together and our problems were never personal.

Certainly, there must be "Miscegenation" of a horrible kind in a country that produces so much divorce, and often so early in each marriage. What happiness can there be in a marriage of the same kind of people that smashes upon the rocks of incompatibility—selfishness and egotism—so soon after marriage that the normal adjustments of human being, of personality to personality, could not yet have taken place. And how difficult it is for one who has been happily married to understand this movement of a good woman from husband to husband, from one man to another, time after time.

This is nothing to push aside as a hateful subject not to be discussed, and "South Pacific" does discuss it. Of course, the authors are delicate and the music lards the beef, but there it is to be seen and felt by those who follow the tale instead of the tune. It is the gist of the story that is brought to a happy ending when Mary Martin and Ezio Pinza and his two Eurasian children form a family as the curtain falls. But there is also an unhappy ending when Lieutenant Cable cannot marry Liat, the Indo-Chinese girl, whose mother, Bloody Mary, is so wonderfully simple and yet so utterly Asiatic. The boy from Princeton cannot go through with it.

Diet and Health Care Is Essential For Pregnant Women

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE health — and sometimes even the lives — of the expectant mother and her baby depend on proper care during pregnancy. Important as it is, however, this kind of care need not be expensive or bothersome. Its aims are largely preventive and its chief requirement is that the mother place herself under the care of a competent doctor as soon as pregnancy is suspected.

At the first visit, the physician makes a complete physical examination so that any abnormal conditions may be discovered and eliminated. A search is made for any infections which can be treated and cleared up.

X-Ray Examination

If it is suspected at this time that there is any deformity of the hip bones or pelvis, an X-ray examination may be made. If any deformity is discovered, the proper procedures can be planned for the future.

At each visit it is important that a urine examination and a blood count be made.

It is also important on the first visit that the blood be tested for venereal disease, such as syphilis, and that tests be made for the Rh factor. Even if the blood test for syphilis is positive, with modern treatment the mother's health may be restored and the baby will be born free from infection.

The patient's blood type should also be determined. The blood typing is done so that if an emergency arises later, which requires a blood transfusion or an injection of blood into a vein, the necessary procedure can be carried out without delay.

Unless the patient is overweight, a strict diet is usually unnecessary. The patient must, however, follow a well-regulated diet, including meat, milk, eggs, dairy products, fruits, vegetables, and whole-grain cereals. It is advisable to cut down on the fats and sweets so that an excessive gain in weight will not occur during pregnancy. A weight gain of two to three pounds a month is satisfactory.

Visit to Doctor

During each subsequent visit to the doctor, the patient is weighed, blood pressure taken and, if necessary, blood counts carried out.

When pregnant women have this type of prenatal care, many of the difficulties attendant on pregnancy and childbirth can be warded off. In any event, the physician is forewarned of any emergency and is better able to meet it should it arise.

Supt. Brown Speaks On Education At LWV Meeting

Superintendent Stephen Brown of the Washington Court House schools was the entertaining and highly instructive speaker before the League of Women Voters of Fayette County on Monday afternoon. Members of the league and a number of visitors had assembled at the lovely new home of Miss Dorothea Galt to hear a talk on "Education" which has been a cherished project of the League since the founding of the organization in 1920.

Mrs. Jean S. Nisley, president of the league, introduced the speaker who, after extending thanks for support of the school bond issue, lost no time in painting a word picture of education in Ohio which he compared with that of the 48 states in the Union. Ohio ranks 9th in its number of trained teachers, in which it is exceeded by Arizona, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Colorado, Utah, California and Montana. Washington C. H. has the single standard salary schedule—that is, the same salary is paid in the High School and in the elementary grades for the same number of years of training and of experience.

Mr. Brown declared that the quality of the schools can not rise above the character and competence of the teachers. A serious barrier is the meager preparation of thousands of teachers. In the United States 41% of the teachers have no college degree. The speaker described at length the health program in the local schools and told of the marvelous cooperation of the Board of Health. While he did not discuss any specific problems he showed how democracy is to be built by teaching children to have proper attitudes of mind, and said, "You can't do today's job by yesterday's tools and be in business tomorrow." He said, too, that "Democracy is the enlightenment of the many, not the education of a few."

When the speaker stated that he has been making a study of the question "Why do students leave school before graduation?", he immediately was assailed with a barrage of inquiries, and questions and opinions flew by with top speed.

Mr. Brown was given a vote of thanks by the league, and the members expressed appreciation of the speaker's sincerity, wide knowledge, and definite grasp of the situation.

The president, Mrs. Nisley, closed the meeting with a summing up of the work of the League of Women Voters as an educational society during the last 29 years. Its purpose has not been to tell people how to vote, but to teach them how to deal fairly with both sides of every question. She gave souvenirs to be taken home and studied—a Memo—"You Pay the Taxes, You Call the Tune."

Sorority Members Hear Book Review By Mrs. Loudner

The regular meeting of Ohio Zeta Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held Monday evening at which time each member brought food for a Thanksgiving basket to be given the deserving family "adopted" by the chapter and to whom food and clothing has been contributed during the past year.

During the brief business meeting, conducted by Mrs. John Rhoads, the new pledges were appointed to the following committees, Mrs. Frank Karney and Mrs. James Garringer to the ways and means; Mrs. Max Allen and Mrs. Loren Wilson to the social committee.

The annual Christmas party will be an event of December 19 and the annual party for needy children will also be sometime in December, the exact date to be announced later.

Following the outline of the cultural program, the current topic being Pride of Possession, Mrs. Joe F. Loudner reviewed "The Queen's Doll House" by A. C. Benson and Sir Lawrence Weaver. In her report, Mrs. Loudner described the miniature house presented to the Queen Mother Mary during her reign in 1924 by Sir Edwin Duten. The house complete in every detail even to workable plumbing and electric appliances is scaled one inch to one foot and is 102 inches by 58 1/2 inches and of twentieth century design. The doll house is still one of the proud possessions of the Queen Mother. A round table discussion followed Mrs. Loudner's interesting review. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jane Himiller and Mrs. Frank Hooks.

The next regular meeting will be December 5th with Mrs. Donald Murdock as guest speaker.

Mrs. Craig Guest Speaker At Guild Meeting

Miss Amelia Pensyl extended the hospitality of her home on Monday evening to the members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of Grace Methodist Church for the regular November meeting with Mrs. Clarence Craig as guest speaker.

Miss Edith Wilson, president conducted the business session and the usual reports were heard with Mrs. Clifford Galliett giving the treasurer's report in the absence of Mrs. Edward L. Williams. The society made plans for sending a Christmas box to a nine-year-old girl at the Ethel Harpot Home at Cedartown, Georgia who was adopted several years ago.

Miss Wilson presented Miss Pensyl who was program chairman which was opened with impressive devotionals, reading Scripture from the book of Job. Her subject was "The Rise of the Morning Star in Pakistan", which she described in detail and closed with the reading of a poem and prayer.

Miss Jane Trent conducted the study period, using as her topic "Pakistan". She spoke of the five pointed star and the crescent in the flag and named and described the provinces which each point of the star represents. She also told of the work of the Christian people there and how the Service Guild had assisted them, closing with a prayer for Pakistan.

Miss Pensyl presented Mrs. Craig in a talk on the cathedrals visited while she was abroad. Those she mentioned were: St. Paul's of London, St. Peter's of Rome, Notre Dame of Paris and the Westminster Abbey, where the tomb of the unknown soldier is located. Mrs. Craig told of attending a High Mass at Notre Dame and described in detail the Gothic structure of each Cathedral. Her talk concluded the program.

A social hour followed during which the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. George O'Brian, Miss Jane Trent, Mrs. Herbert Cockerill and Mrs. Craig served a tempting dessert course.

Five Hostesses Entertain At Unique Oriental Dinner At Washington Country Club

Mrs. Samuel R. Parrett, Mrs. Charles Reinke, Mrs. Walter L. O'Brien, Mrs. Ellet Kaufman, and Mrs. Edward R. Hunt made up a gracious group of hostesses on Monday when they entertained with a most unique "Oriental Dinner" party and an evening of games at the Washington Country Club.

The club lounge with gorgeous Oriental figurines was a thing of unusual beauty, and in the foyer one large vase with the predominating design was filled with shaggy yellow mums. Over one hundred guests were seated at both long and round tables for a delicious chow-mein dinner and the adornments on each were Oriental figurines and cactus gardens on mounds of lacy fern.

Mrs. James Rose Entertains Mothers' Circle

Mrs. James E. Rose extended gracious hospitality at her home Monday evening to the Mothers' Circle.

Mrs. M. Grove Davis, club president, conducted the business session, during which a substantial donation was made to the Christmas Seal Campaign and also to contribute a large number of baskets to shut-ins at Thanksgiving. The program was under the direction of Mrs. Richard Gillen, who presented Mrs. George Smith as guest speaker, who spoke on "Public Health, The Duties and Services." She was assisted in her interesting talk by Miss Gretchen Darlington, and movies were shown of the Memorial Hospital, from the time of the beginning of the construction up to the present time.

At the close of the program, a social hour followed, during which the hostess, Mrs. W. H. Limes and her assistants, Mrs. Joseph W. Campbell, Mrs. Joseph M. Herbert, Mrs. John Morehouse and Mrs. George Pensyl served a dainty dessert course.

Greenberg Indian Manager After Team Is Sold by Veeck

CLEVELAND, Nov. 22 — (AP) — Baseball novice Ellis W. Ryan opened business as the Cleveland Indians' new president today by giving Hank Greenberg a free hand in player transactions. Then he added: "some new deals must be made" to strengthen the club.

The ex-Detroit Tiger slugger, Greenberg, was signed to a three-year contract as general manager of the American League Baseball Club yesterday shortly after the team was sold to Ryan and other Clevelanders.

Under the Bill Veeck regime just closed, Greenberg was vice president and ran the Indians' farm system.

"Hank and I will work as a team," said Ryan. "But I don't want him to feel that his hands will be tied."

A newcomer to baseball, Ryan also has been promised help from Veeck, the man he succeeded as president.

He said Veeck will accompany him to the major and minor league meetings at New York and Baltimore respectively next month, helping out with his trade know-how.

Veeck himself, though technically finished with the players he built into world champions and powerful crowd drawers, has some business left in Cleveland.

J. H. Harris, owner of 38 1-3 shares of the 1,125 shares of stock in the old ball club, sued Veeck in Common Pleas Court for $1,250,000.

He claimed in his suit that Veeck's private ownership or control of the Oklahoma City, Dayton and Zanesville, O. farm club franchises was financed by $175,000 borrowed without authority from the Cleveland club.

Veeck declined comment. But his attorney, Edward E. Lurie called it a "silly law suit."

The new owners said it will have no effect on the operation of the club.

In another Cleveland court, Veeck was being sought as an alibi witness. A man named Charles Amata is on trial here with four others on a charge of blackmail in connection with the numbers racket here.

Amata's attorney, Louis Feinberg, says Veeck can establish Amata's whereabouts on a certain night which would help his case. He says they were in the same restaurant, which Amata operates.

Good Scores Rolled In Fraternal Loop

Three clean sweeps were made in Monday night's bowling at Bowland as the Fraternal League boys socked the head pin for a lot of high scores.

The Country Clubbers, with only one individual total under 500, set the pace when they tallied 2714 in taking all three games from the Record-Herald.

The other three-game wins were turned in by the Elks and the Mt. Sterling Boosters. The Universals and Lions were the victims.

The Sabina Moose beat the Rotarians, two out of three, in the only split decision match.

Two Clean Sweeps In Ladies League

By rolling three-game victories, the Try-Me Taxies and NCR girls kept in the running in the Ladies League in Monday night's bowling at Bowland. The Taxies downed the Candymakers and the NCR quintet whitewashed the Montgomery Warders.

The Morris Store girls won the last two from the Loudner team after dropping the opener and the front-running Kirkpatrick outfit did the same in their match with the girls from Charley Funk's Restaurant in Jeffersonville.

Tributes Paid Bucks

COLUMBUS, Nov. 22 — (AP) — Some 1,500 students, well-wishers and fans felt Ohio State's Rose Bowl-bound Buckeyes at an appreciation dinner last night.

Seven players were awarded their fourth varsity letter, a rarity in OSU football.

Coach Wes Fesler presented the two Michigan game balls (one was used in each half) to Billy Newell, defensive halfback, and Jimmy Clark, halfback who missed last Saturday's game thriller with Michigan because of an injury.

Reviewing his three years as coach, Fesler praised the "courage, respect, belief, and faith" of team members.

Ray Hamilton, halfback who played high school football with Canton McKinley, was awarded the Ohio State Journal quarter-back club trophy. It was presented by Jack Jennings, a senior tackle on the squad. Hamilton was adjudged the sophomore who contributed most to the success of the Western Conference co-champions.

Election of a captain to succeed Jack Wilson for the 1950 season was postponed until after the Rose Bowl game.

The coaches selected Lininger as the team's most valuable player in 1949.

Mississippi's football squads went coachless through three early campaigns — 1896, 1897 and 1905.

Only 25 Boys Out for First BB Practice

About 25 boys showed up for the opening practice of the 1949-50 basketball season at Washington C. H. High School Monday afternoon.

Coach Steve Lewis reported no additions to the group of reserves last year who now move up to the varsity squad. Of course, Ivan Blair, the one-holdover from the varsity last year, will be on the team.

The boys who Lewis worked with Monday were: John Jordan, Ed Pensyl, Norman Pope, Fred Brandenburg, Ted Shelton, Loren Yoho, Bradley Nehf, Ken Robinson, Jim Johnson, Dave Sheidler and Barry Smith.

Turnout for the reserve team was only fair, Lewis reported. He said that practice this week would center on fundamentals and light scrimmage.

Two Bucks on Big Ten All-Star Team

BY JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO, Nov. 22 —(P)—Co-champion Michigan and third-place Minnesota, with three berths each, monopolized the 1949 All-Big Ten football team selected for the Associated Press by Conference coaches today.

Ohio State's Rose Bowl Buckeyes, who shared the title with Michigan, took two positions while one spot each went to Wisconsin, Illinois and Northwestern. Iowa, Purdue and Indiana failed to place in the No. 1 lineup.

There was not a single unanimous choice, although Michigan's halfback Charles Ortmann and Wisconsin's banger Bob Wilson, converted from center to end this season, missed by one coach each.

Minnesota placed three linemen, two of them—end Bud Grant and tackle Leo Nomellini—being repeaters from last year's AP honor team along with Michigan's 33-year-old tackle, Al Wistert.

The third Gopher honored was 240-pound center Clayton Tonnemaker, who advanced from second team rating in 1948. Michigan's third all-star was guard Lloyd Heneveld, who dominated widespread voting at that position. Rounding out a 216-pound line at the other guard was Ohio's Jack Lininger, normally a center but rated too valuable to be left off the first team.

Don Burson, accurate-passing strategist of Northwestern, was named quarterback in a close scrap with Ohio's Pandel Savic. Rounding out a comparatively light, but high-powered backfield with Burson and Ortmann were Johnny Karras of Illinois, only sophomore on the honor team, and Ohio State's Jerry Krall.

Karras, heaviest back of the group at 186 pounds, established a conference season ground-gaining record of 732 yards in seven games and was hailed as the finest Illinois back since Red Grange.

Krall, a 180-pound competitor, was awarded the fullback spot, although he performed as a tailback for the Buckeyes. It was Krall's super-charged running which ignited Ohio's second half rally for the 7-7 tie with Michigan for the title share last Saturday.

With exception of Karras and Junior Ortmann, a brilliant passer who suffered from lack of able Michigan receivers, the No. 1 aggregation was composed of seniors.

Karras missed two first team votes, but matched Ortmann and Wilson with 16 points out of a possible 18 by snagging two second team votes. In the cases of Ortmann and Wilson, one coach failed to name them on either team.

Playoff for Title Still Faces Browns

NEW YORK, Nov. 22—(P)—Although Cleveland's Browns have clinched first place in the All-America Football Conference race, they must win the December playoffs to become the 1949 conference champions.

Commissioner O. O. Kessing pointed out yesterday that only the final playoffs can decide the title, Cleveland, by defeating the New York Yankees, 31-0, on Sunday, automatically became certain of first place. They have one more game to play and can't be overtaken.

The first four teams in the seven-team league will engage in the post-season playoffs of two rounds. On Sunday, Dec. 4, the No. 1 finisher will play the No. 4 team and the No. 2 and 3 clubs will clash in the other contest.

Then, on Dec. 11, the two winners will meet to decide the conference championship.

Attendance Drops For Cincinnati Reds

CINCINNATI, Nov. 22 —(P)—The Cincinnati Reds' home attendance dropped more than 100,000 during the 1949 season as compared with 1948, club President Warren C. Giles reported today.

Giles told the annual stockholders meeting that the seventh place Reds played to 707,782 home fans last season. The 1948 total was 823,386.

Road attendance in 1949 was 972,659 as compared with 1,072,432 in 1948.

The Reds, who played 16 night games last year, plan to schedule from 21 to 24 under the lights contests for 1950, Giles reported.

YMW Group Has Meeting Here

Several Attend Two Important Meets

Young folks of the county, members of the Young Men and Women Group, met Monday evening for their regular monthly discussion meeting at the Farm Bureau Building. The group has decided to take the name of Young Men and Women in place of the Older Rural Youth Group, as decided upon at a National Conference for young people held at Jackson's Mill Camp, West Virginia, in October.

Members of the group present discussed social activities, particularly square dances and recreation for young people in the county. It was pointed out that recreational activities were being sponsored by a number of the Granges in the county and by a number of the 4-H clubs, particularly at Good Hope.

The group plans a county-wide party and square dance to be held during the Christmas holidays when many of their members will be home from college.

The group heard reports from the District 7 Farm Bureau Youth meeting at Sligo, Clinton County, on November 5. Jerry Cory, president of Farm Bureau Youth Council for district 7, told of the youth session to be held during the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation 31st Annual Meeting at Columbus, November 28, 29 and 30.

The following young people from the county plan to attend: Jerry Cory, Bob McFadden, Edward Davis, Jack Pope, Charles Gibeau, John Craig, Dana Kellenberger, Bud Meriweather, Ruth Engle, Virginia Bandy, Joanne Craig, Ruth Craig and Connie Pyle.

Ruth Engle told of the youth session of the American Farm Bureau Federation Annual Meeting at Chicago, December 11 to 14. At least two young people, Ruth Engle and Virginia Bandy, will be delegates from Fayette County. While in Chicago, they will be staying in the Congress Hotel. It is expected young people from nearly every state in the union will attend.

School Boosters Buy Box Lunches

Box lunches auctioned off at the Madison School Boosters (PTA) meeting Monday night netted $102.55.

Proceeds from the sale of the lunches prepared by the women will be used for the school Christmas treat.

Presiding over the bidding was Jess Schlichter, assisted by Albert Smith who did the bookkeeping for the sale.

Following the auction, the members were entertained by the school children.

First of all the high school band played three numbers, then the freshman class under the direction of John D. Bryan presented the one-act play, "Shirley's Party."

A short Thanksgiving sermon delivered by Rev. Guy Tucker concluded the program.

County Courts

DIVORCE ASKED

Claiming the defendant has been guilty of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty, Ethel Colton has brought action for divorce from Roy Colton, to whom she was married in Washington C. H. Oct. 29, 1947, according to the petition.

A restraining order was issued prohibiting the defendant from incurring or disposing of certain property or drawing money from a bank. Temporary alimony and possession of household goods also are asked.

Clark Wickensmire represents the plaintiff.

AFFIDAVIT FILED

An affidavit filed by Freda Brown and Geneva Allen Cross, executrices of the estate of Florence Dickerson, has been accepted in lieu of a schedule of claims. The executrices have also been granted authority by the probate court.

AFFIDAVIT APPROVED

The probate court has approved an affidavit filed by Harold W. Zimmerman, executor of the estate of J. W. Haigler, in lieu of a schedule of claims.

ADMINISTRATRIX NAMED

Ora Ellen Newlan has been appointed administratrix of the estate of Samuel Newlan.

SETTLEMENT DATES

The probate court has set Dec. 23, for settlement of the following accounts, in the estates designated: Emma M. Hoppes, Jennie Patton, Wilbert Dailey, J. W. Haigler, Margaret B. Shobe and William S. Stinson. Also the guardianship for the following wards, Hazel Leach, Hilda Perry and Joe Frank Taylor.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Hairdressers Hear Columbus Man Speak

Andre Correale, who is connected with the New York Modeling School in Columbus, spoke to Washington C. H. hairdressers, who met Monday night in the George Washington suite of the Hotel Washington.

The speaker talked about skin care, hair cutting, shaping and shampooing.

Joe Donaldson, of the Lancaster Beauty Supply Company, showed pictures of the latest shampoo techniques, short hair styling and cutting.

Announcement was made that the hairdressers will hold their Christmas party December 19 in the George Washington Suite of the Hotel Washington.

The meeting Monday night was largely attended.

Cub Pack 67 Meets In Jeffersonville

A covered dish supper attended by 53 cubs and guests preceded a meeting of Cub Pack 67, Jeffersonville Monday night.

After the meal, Martin Campbell, assistant cubmaster, presided over the regular meeting, opening with the salute and pledge to the flag.

Cubmaster-elect Jack Hare was welcomed by Campbell along with Mr. and Mrs. John L. McKillip, new den mother and den dad of Den 3.

Campbell then introduced Ray Graft, field representative and Earl Henderson, organizational chairman, who visited the meeting.

Awards were presented by the den mothers to the following scouts: Roger Crabtree, one silver arrow; David Rose, silver arrow; Ronnie Hood, two silver arrows; Gail Self, wolf badge and golden arrow; Michael Garringer, wolf badge.

Den 1 then dramatized a typical den meeting and Bill Coe, den chief and Den 2, showed moving pictures.

Dale Alexander, institutional representative of the Lions Club, who will sponsor the Cub Pack in the coming year, and the Pack committee met with Henderson and Graft to review the charter, re-register and apply for a charter renewal.

Presentation of the charter and graduation exercises will be the program at the December meeting of the pack on the 28th.

Last Rites Read For Mrs. Jones

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Jones were held at 2 P. M. Monday at the Gerstner Funeral Home, with the Rev. John Stinson, pastor of the A. M. E. Church, in charge.

Rev. Stinson read the scripture, offered prayer and delivered the sermon. The choir at the A. M. E. Church sang the hymns, "Abide With Me," "Farther Along," and "Old Rugged Cross."

Mrs. Margaret Woodson read the memoir. The funeral was largely attended and there was a wealth of flowers cared for by the following pallbearers: Charles Abrames, Walter Loving, George Byrd, Vernon, James and Alonzo Harris.

Burial was made in the Washington Cemetery under the direction of the Gerstner Funeral Home.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Driver is Fined After Accident

W. L. Beagle, Cincinnati, was fined $10 and costs as result of a traffic mishap which occurred Oct. 20, at Court and Hinde Streets, when he faced a reckless operation charge in Justice C. P. Ludwick's court, Monday.

The charge was filed by Levi Lyons, Sabina, after his car had been struck and damaged by the Beagle car.

Beagle admitted that he was following Lyons car too closely when the accident occurred, but denied he was driving in a reckless manner.
